Turning High-Poverty Schools into High-Performing Schools

By William H. Parrett and Kathleen M. Budge

Association for Supervision & Curriculum Development. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 221 pages. Dimensions: 9.8in. x 7.9in. x 0.9in. Is it possible for high-poverty schools to be high achieving? Of course it is! Real schools with students living in poverty do post high levels of student achievement. Learn what these schools do to help students succeed--and how you and your school can adopt the same practices--no matter what socio-economic climate students live in. Lessons learned and practical advice from seven of these high-performing high-poverty (HPHP) schools, along with hundreds of others that have been the subject of intensive research, are the focus of this book. Authors William Parrett and Kathleen Budge have synthesized the research, studied the schools in depth, and show you critical components that set these institutions apart from their struggling peers. After setting the context by examining poverty and its stunning effects on students, the authors then zero in on what HPHP schools stopped doing or eliminated and what they started doing or improved on in three key areas of performance: Building leadership capacity; Fostering a safe, healthy, and supportive learning environment; and Focusing on student, professional, and system learning. Principals, teacher-leaders, and district leaders can benefit from the...
